

NATIONAL NQM QUILT MUSEUM

Stellar by Antari Foster

ABOUT THE NATIONAL QUILT MUSEUM

The National Quilt Museum in Paducah, Kentucky, is America's premier museum dedicated to contemporary quilts and fiber art. Founded in 1991 by Bill and Meredith Schroeder, founders of the American Quilter's Society, the Museum was established to celebrate the artistic achievements of today's quiltmakers and preserve their work for future generations. In 2008, the United States Congress designated The National Quilt Museum as the National Quilt Museum of the United States.

Today, the Museum houses a collection of more than 700 quilts and fiber artworks by internationally acclaimed artists and presents rotating exhibitions that demonstrate the extraordinary creativity, innovation, and craftsmanship found in contemporary quilt art. Through exhibitions, educational programs, workshops, and community engagement, the Museum honors the rich traditions of quilting while inspiring new generations of artists and enthusiasts.

Located in UNESCO Creative City Paducah, Kentucky, The National Quilt Museum welcomes visitors from throughout the United States and around the world. The Museum serves as a cultural and tourism destination, offering guided tours, group experiences, educational programs, and special events that connect audiences with one of America's most distinctive artistic traditions.

More than a museum, The National Quilt Museum is a place where art, history, storytelling, and innovation come together. Through its mission of honoring today's quilters and inspiring future generations, the Museum preserves the art of today for tomorrow.

Mission

To honor today's quilters and inspire future generations through the collection, preservation, and exhibition of quilts and fiber art.

Vision

To be America's premier quilt museum, celebrating innovative and extraordinary quilts from the United States and around the world.

The National Quilt Museum

215 Jefferson Street

Paducah, Kentucky 42001

270.442.8856

quiltmuseum.org

Honoring Today's Quilters. Inspiring Future Generations.

