

NATIONAL NQM QUILT MUSEUM

Saffron Splendor by Pat Holly

BECKY GLASBY

RGlasby@quiltmuseum.org

Position

Director of Learning & Engagement

The National Quilt Museum

Paducah, Kentucky

Overview

Becky Glasby serves as Director of Learning & Engagement for The National Quilt Museum, where she develops educational programs, workshops, and learning experiences that connect people of all ages with the art and craft of quilting. Through innovative programming, she helps fulfill the Museum's mission of honoring today's quilters and inspiring future generations.

Educational Leadership

Glasby oversees a wide range of educational initiatives, including:

- Adult quilting workshops
- Lectures and demonstrations
- Youth and family programming
- K–12 STEAM curriculum
- School outreach programs
- Virtual learning opportunities
- Community engagement programs
- Special events and educational partnerships

Inspiring Future Quilters

Through hands-on learning and creative exploration, Glasby helps make quilting accessible to audiences of all experience levels. Her work supports the Museum's commitment to preserving quilting traditions while introducing new generations to textile arts.

STEAM Education

The Museum's educational programs incorporate:

- Science
- Technology
- Engineering
- Arts
- Mathematics

Using quilts as a teaching tool, these programs encourage creativity, critical thinking, design, and problem-solving skills.

Educational Impact

Since opening, The National Quilt Museum has provided educational opportunities to more than 100,000 students and lifelong learners.

The Museum's educational programs include:

- Classes for beginning and experienced quilters
- Youth programming
- School Block Challenge participation
- Community workshops
- Artist demonstrations
- Online classes and webinars

Professional Focus

Becky Glasby is committed to:

- Inspiring creativity through lifelong learning
- Expanding access to quilting education
- Connecting art with STEAM concepts
- Encouraging intergenerational learning
- Preserving quilting traditions while embracing innovation

"Quilting is a bridge between creativity, problem solving, and storytelling. Through education and hands-on experiences, we hope to inspire curiosity and encourage people of all ages to discover the joy of making and learning."

Fast Facts

Title: Director of Learning & Engagement

Institution: The National Quilt Museum

Location: Paducah, Kentucky

Areas of Expertise:

- Quilting education
- STEAM learning
- Youth programming
- Adult workshops
- Community engagement
- Lifelong learning

The National Quilt Museum

215 Jefferson Street

Paducah, Kentucky 42001

270.442.8856

quiltmuseum.org

Honoring Today's Quilters. Inspiring Future Generations.

