

NATIONAL NQM QUILT MUSEUM

Saffron Splendor by Pat Holly

PADUCAH, KENTUCKY

UNESCO CREATIVE CITY & QUILT DESTINATION

Where Art, Heritage, and Creativity Meet

Located in historic downtown Paducah, Kentucky, The National Quilt Museum is part of a vibrant arts community recognized internationally for creativity and cultural tourism.

Paducah was designated a UNESCO Creative City in 2013, joining a global network of cities that promote creativity as a driver of sustainable development.

A Destination for Quilt Lovers

Visitors from across the United States and around the world travel to Paducah to experience:

- The National Quilt Museum
- AQS QuiltWeek Paducah
- The Lower Town Arts District
- Historic downtown Paducah
- Riverfront attractions
- Local restaurants and shopping

Cultural Tourism

The Museum serves as a cornerstone of Paducah's tourism economy and contributes to the city's reputation as an international destination for arts and culture.

Visitors frequently extend their stay to experience other attractions throughout western Kentucky.

International Recognition

Through exhibitions, education, and digital engagement, The National Quilt Museum helps position Paducah as one of the world's most recognized destinations for quilting and fiber art.

The National Quilt Museum

215 Jefferson Street
Paducah, Kentucky 42001
270.442.8856
quiltmuseum.org

Honoring Today's Quilters. Inspiring Future Generations.

